They provide practical and pastoral care to all seafarers, regardless of nationality, race or belief. Port Chaplains and volunteer ship visitors' welcome seafarers, offer welfare services and advice, care and friendship.

The AoS in GB is part of international network known as Stella Maris. 90% of the world trade is transported by ship. However, the life of a modern seafarer can be dangerous and lonely. They may spend up to a year at a time away from home separated from their family and loved ones and working in harsh conditions. The AoS relies wholly on voluntary contributions and can only continue its work through the generous donations of its supporters, particularly in this collection. Thank you and God Bless your generosity.
